

Dollkraut Biography

"After a small decade of travelling through music as a lonesome cowboy, Pascal Pinkert aspired a live project for his Dollkraut moniker next to his DJ appearances.

When he bumped into Timothy Francis AKA 'The Lonesome Bass' who happened to be looking for a new band, they quickly discovered mutual interests and started the project as a two man band. After a single show the duo decided they needed a third companion: Pim 'Drummer Man' ten Have.

With no rehearsal space or live experience as a three-piece act, they got booked for Lowlands 2015. This packed and sweaty show at the X-RAY stage resulted in more live rituals at venues and festivals like Le Guess Who, Nachtvillage, 013 Tilburg, Where The Wild Things Are 2016 and Bad Bonn Kilbi 2016 in Switzerland.

At these live rituals, the band performs the older works and unreleased stuff, as well as the wave-inspired songs by their side-project De Ambassade."
